Not illustrated. 1858 Excerpt: ...not mourn because you are neither a hero nor a saint. I Used to think the Lord's Prayer was a short prayer; but, as I live longer, and see more of life, I begin to believe there is no such thing as getting through it. If a man, in praying that prayer, were to be stopped by every word until he had thoroughly prayed it, it would take him a lifetime. " Our Father"--there would be a wall a hundred feet high in just those two words to most men. If they might say, " Our Tyrant," or " Our Monarch," or even " Our Creator," they could get along with it; but " Our Father "--why, a man is almost a saint who can pray that. You read, " Thy will be done," and you say to yourself, " O, I can pray that;" and all the time your mind goes round and round in immense circuits and far-off distances; but God is continually bringing the circuits nearer to you, till he says, " How is it about 'your temper and your pride? How is it about your business and your daily life?'" This is a revolutionary petition. It would make many a man's shop and store tumble to the ground to utter it. Who can stand at the end of the avenue along which all his pleasant thoughts and wishes are blossoming like flowers, and send these terrible words, " Thy will be done," crashing down through it? I think it is the most fearful prayer to pray in the world. Every well-doer on the face of the earth is my blood relation through Jesus Christ. I feel his heart beating right up to my ribs, and mine beating back to his. All the good passed away and transfigured into glory are mine. My own mother is not more really, though more tenderly, mine, than is the mother of St. Chrysostom or St. Augustine; and I belong to every man at wh...
